Got Destructive Creativity?

Before you misinterpret the article to be about economy or finance, let me first elucidate the meaning of the word 'destructive creativity' for this article. This is simply about the creative minds and their creativity which is somehow; more inclined towards the destruction. Though creativity is about creation and destruction is its antonym; some of the patrons of the creative league believe in creating destruction itself!

This doesn't necessarily imply one is suffering from any personal agony against the world. Sometimes creative guys just voluntarily set forth towards exploring the creative avenues of destruction. Surprisingly; some of the 'destructive jobs' pretty much need, a creative touch.

Here are top three jobs in the world that require immense level of destructive creativity...

Job#1 Game Designers

Gaming is an avenue where wars, crime, guns, bombs, violence and all sorts of torturous tactics co-exist. It's a place where all that cannot be done in real life, can be done. Be it cute games like 'Angry Birds' or the most advanced war games like 'Call of Duty', there is always a vibrant scope for all sorts of destruction in the gaming industry. If you've got a creative gaming freak in you, this would be your nirvana. Moreover, it's a booming industry with awesome packages to offer.

Job#2 Action/Stunt Directors

What's a hero who doesn't even know how to stop the villain and what's a villain, who can't even destroy the world! This situation in the film industry is the very indicator of the demand of creative destruction in the movies. Cinema deals with defying and refining the realities of life on the screen. The action guys have to not only have an ability to explode all the cars chasing the hero in the movie, but also make it realistic enough for the audience's hearts to pop off their seats. Film industry has witnessed remarkable evolution in the action and stunt quality in the past few decades, making it nearly impossible for the viewers to differentiate between the real and the virtual. So, this is one place to be, if you've got the right action hunger.

Job#3 Defence Operation Heads

On a serious note; this is a place, where not anyone can get. It's so, for because nothing here; is fake. Bombs, guns, grenades, RPGs, tanks, life and death; everything is simply real. This is a job where only true patriotism, dedication and war experience can take you. However, this does not undermine the level of creativity that is required for making action plans. Doing the right thing at right time and that too; with minimal damages possible is not an easy task. Surprising the enemy and accomplishing the objective before he comes out of the shock; is the level of creativity, the operation heads need. If you've got it all, go for it, soldier boy.
